Dear Moya,

I have a shop - I know how to organize (usually) for my business. What I would like to know from you, is how do you organize your yarns..... bins? boxes? by fiber? by color? I'd love to know what works for you!

NEW YARN IN STOCK: Kauni Effektgarn

This is one of those yarns that just looks like so much fun for knitters and weavers too!
Knitters: 7-8 st/in on # 2 - 5
Weavers: 12 -15 epi

Kauni Effektgarn yarn is a beautiful self striping yarn. The color variations are long, so it's great for knitting large projects such as shawls, vests, and sweaters. This 8/2 wool yarn knits up at a fingering weight and feels very light and airy and it blooms nicely after washing.

This is a really handy tool to have. Some of its uses that I've found so far:

1. Thread rigid heddle looms
2. Thread texolv heddles
3. Thread texsolv cord through holes
4. Bury ends when weaving rugs

Let me know what other uses you find for it. I'm sure that spinners and knitters can think of something!

If you prefer to fashion your own hook - take a look at the Fetch Hooks !

weaversloft Website

We have now installed a guest checkout for your convenience!

Also, we have been experiencing some problems with our USPS shipping module. Until it's resolved, know that any excess shipping will be refunded back to you via paypal.

As always - your support is greatly appreciated. Be sure to let me know if you want to see something at a show - or if I can help some other way.

Sincerely,
